12 PER CENT IS WAGE CUT GIVEN BY R. R. BOARD

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 1.—Two million railway workers in the United States are facing an entirely new deal in wages and working conditions on July 1, as the result of a decision made public today by the United States Railway-Labor board. During the present month the railway employees must decide what their attitude toward the deal is to be.

The decision of the railway board granting the roads permission to cut wages approximately 12 per cent from the present scale is effective July 1. On that date also the present national agreement, which prescribes rules under which the employees now work, expires. Among leaders of the railway workers the decision of the board was regarded by some as a victory for the men, inasmuch as the railroads had asked wage reductions approximating 25 per cent.

It is believed the workers will accept the wage cuts, regarding as more vital the provisions of the new working agreement that are to be drafted.

The aggregate reduction, if applied to employees of the class carriers, will total $400,000,000 annually. The average railroaders pay will be $125, compared to $141 a month as at present.

The decision grants reductions varying from 5 to 13 cents an hour, or from 5 to 18 per cent, and in the case of section laborers completely wipes out the increase granted that class of employees by the $600,000,000 wage award of July 20, 1920. For section men the reduction was approximately 18 per cent. Switchmen and shop crafts were given a 9 per cent reduction, while the train service men were cut in pay 7 per cent. Car repairers were cut about 10 per cent.

Common labor pay, over which the railroads made their hardest fight, is to be reduced 6 to 8 1-2 cents an hour, cutting freight truckers' average monthly wages to $97.10, and track laborers to $77.11. This new schedule gives section men an average daily wage of $3.02 for an eight-hour day, although considerable testimony offered by the roads, particularly in the South, showed common labor wages as low as $1.50 for a ten-hour day.

Shop crafts employees and train and engine service men, except those in passenger service, are reduced eight cents an hour. Construction and section foremen are reduced ten cents an hour.

Passenger and freight engineers who were given increases of 10 and 13 cents an hour by the 1920 award are to be cut 6 and 8 cents and hour respectively. Passenger and freight conductors, who received increases of 12 1-2 and 13 cents in 1920, are cut 7 1-2 and 8 cents respectively by the new schedule.

Train dispatchers and yardmasters, whose monthly earnings at present average $260 to $270 are cut 8 cents an hour.

The smallest reduction will apply to office boys and other employees under 18 years old, who will receive 5 cents an hour less after July 1.

Clerks are reclassified, so that entering clerks, usually young men and women of 18 to 20 years old, will receive a monthly salary of $67.50 for the first six months and $77.50 for the second six months of service. Clerks with less than one year's experience now receive $120.

A new monthly schedule for floating equipment employees on ferries, tugs and steam lighters give captains $200; engineers, $190; firemen and oilers, $140. On lighters and barges, captains will receive $120 to $150; engineers, $140 to $160, and mates $100.

REDUCTION DISCUSSED

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 1.—The interstate-commerce commission is now engaged in revision of railroad freight rates through a process of voluntary reductions by concerted action on the part of the carriers. President Harding was informed today when he made an unexpected personal call at the office of the commission and discussed conditions with the members.

It is understood the president discussed the proposed arrangements whereby the railroads may fund the $800,000,000 which they owe the government.

OVER-ORGANIZATION SENDS H. C. L. UP, GOVERNMENT AVERS

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 1.—The administration has found what it believes to be one of the principal causes for the high cost of living.

The answer, according to surveys made by the department of justice and the department of commerce, is found in the 400 odd associations organized along industrial lines which have not disbanded since the war and which are still operating regarding selling prices and selling territory.

Lumber men, coal men, clothing men, manufacturers engaged in the same line—all have their associations, the organizations and their undertakings. The farmer has none of these, and therein lies the cause for the present wide difference between the price of the product the farmer has to sell and the product he has to buy.

J. D. McNABB TO BE BURIED THURSDAY

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at St. John's church for J. D. McNabb, beloved citizen who died yesterday after a lingering illness. He is survived by his wife who has the sympathy of a wide circle of friends.

The services will be conducted by Rev. T. G. Mundy and after religious services at the grave, the Masons will conduct the services of the order.

Among the out-of-town friends and relatives here to attend the funeral are: Mrs. Howard Anderson of Knoxville, a sister of the deceased and son, Claiborne; Don McNabb, Macon, Ga., a brother and his daughter, Miss Emma; Mr. and Mrs. John S. Irvin, Huntsville; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Longston, of Fairfield; Thornton Adams of Raleigh, N. C.; Mrs. I. O. Adams, of Birmingham; Mrs. W. P. Ross, Madisonville, Ky.

CULVER M. HILLIS HAS NEW POSITION

Culver M. Hillis, formerly of Albany and later of Athens, has been promoted to chief clerk of the mail service in Birmingham, friends here have been advised.

Since entering the postal service many years ago Mr. Hillis has steadily progressed, the postal authorities recognizing the value of his service to Uncle Sam. He will succeed Leander F. Cole in Birmingham, Mr. Cole having been transferred.

Fifteen years ago Mr. Hillis was assistant postmaster of the local office. Later he resided in Athens.

Dickson Goes to Christopher, Ill.

W. M. Dickson, superintendent for the Holland Blow Stove Co., Decatur, leaves this afternoon for Christopher, Illinois, where he will be connected with one of the largest coal companies in that part of the country.

Dr. Dickson has been connected with the Holland Blow Company for many years and is one of their most valued employees. Mr. Dickson has many friends in Decatur and Morgan county who wish him much success in this new field of industry.

TWINS DEFEATED BY TRIPLETS 10-6 IN WEIRD GAME; BATSMEN CLOUT

Pitching Offerings Weak and Hitters Have Field Day Here

TWO HOMERS CHALKED UP BY THE TWINS

Carter and McClain's Four Base Smashes Prove Un-availing

In one of those hectic contests which occasionally loom up on the baseball horizon, The Triplets from the Tri-Cities defeated the Twins here yesterday 10 to 6. The Twins made enough hits off the delivery of Mr. Blisset, of Sheffield, to win any ordinary ball game, but unfortunately the Triplets made a few more off Mr. Shelton, a new member of Manager McDuff's aggregation, who stayed here long enough to lose a ball game and departed for his home last night.

It was a weird game. The outfield was freshly cut and baseball clouts to the outer garden took shimmy bounces, accounting for many of the extra base hits. Bragg and Craddock ran a hot race for championship in the error column, going to a dog fall with three miscues each. It was a great day.

The Twins counted in the first on McClain's triple to right after Craddock drew life on a fielder's choice. Sheffield took the lead in the fourth when Nathan dropped a fly over Lewis' head in right, Lewis playing the ball poorly. Riddle and Elmo counted.

Keeping up the see-saw tactics, the Twins again went into the lead in the fifth when Eaks' double was followed by McClain's home run and Lewis, Eaks and Mac counted. In the sixth the pesky Triplets sent Mr. Shelton to the showers. They batted entirely around, Elmo getting life by Craddock's error to open the stanza and flying out to McClain to end it after Russell had relieved Shelton. Five runs were scored in the sixth.

In the seventh, a rally by the locals fell one run short of knotting the count, when Carter smacked a homer to center and McDuff later scored on his own single, a couple of wild heaves by Blisset and Flack's error on Lauderman's grounder to short.

The Triplets sewed it up in the ninth counting three times on a series of hits.

McClain had on his clouting clothes yesterday, getting a triple and a home run, while Tilton with a double

TWO ARE HELD IN MURDER MYSTERY

(International News Service)

KNOXVILLE, TENN., June 1.—Petree and John McClure are in jail here today, charged with the murder Monday night of George Lewis and an attempt to murder Arthur Crumley. The men were attacked, it is alleged, after being taken from their automobiles, bound, gagged, and carried into the Roan county mountains. They were beaten and their throats slashed.

Posses are scouring the mountains for Thomas Christmas and a man by name of Wilson, alleged confederates of Petree and McClure. The quartette who attacked the two men are said to have fled with their victims' automobile and attempted to rob the Oakdale bank yesterday morning.

They were discovered and fled.

Collection Taken For Injured Player

A large amount was contributed by generous fans attending yesterday's game for relief of Jack Healey, of Rome, Ga., a baseball player who came here to try out with the Twins the first of the season.

Healey was struck by a pitched ball in the game with Courtland during the exhibition series prior to the opening of the season. A bone in his left forearm was broken.

NEW RULING GIVEN ON APPEALS FROM TAX ASSESSMENTS BY COURT APPEALS

Probate Judges Performed Judicial duties, the Appellate Justices Hold

SLACKER LISTS TO BE PUBLISHED RAPIDLY

Newspapers Requested to With-hold "Connections" Until Investigation is Made

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 1.—Franchise tax assessments made by the probate judges of Alabama under the revenue act of 1915 which gave them judicial duties to perform, in placing the assessments cannot be set aside by the state unless appeals were taken within the time prescribed by law, under a decision of the court of appeals Tuesday in the case of the state of Alabama ex rel Harwell G. Davis, attorney-general, versus Crane Company, from the Jefferson circuit court.

The state sought to set aside the franchise tax assessment of this company for the years between 1912 and 1919, contending that all capital employed in Alabama was not submitted at the time the assessment was made. The court of appeals, in an opinion written by Judge Samford, held that the state may set aside the assessment for the years 1912 to 1914, because the revenue act of 1911 did not give the probate judge judicial functions, but made him merely a ministerial officer in collecting the tax after the assessment had been made and that as no legal franchise assessment was made against the company the fact that the probate judge gave his receipt for the amount tendered by the company did not establish the validity of the assessment.

But in considering the tax from 1915 to 1919, the court held that the probate judge acted as a judicial officer and set the assessment after a thorough inquiry and that no change could be made in his assessment after the period for appeal had expired.

In another interesting case the court held that a convict cannot be taken from the penitentiary to testify in any civil case, but his evidence must be obtained by deposition made in prison. John Brown, a convict, sought to force William F. Feagin, warden general, and the Montevallo Mining Company, which operates the Aldrich mine, to take him to Jefferson county to testify in a case in which he was interested. The appellate court held that the law provides only for the transfer of convicts as witnesses in criminal cases and that even the state itself would have no right to transfer a convict as a witness in a civil case in which it was interested.

Henry Brewer of Jefferson county, who appealed to the appellate court from a decision of the Jefferson circuit court denying him bail in a case in which he was charged with a felony, was defeated in a decision of the court, which held that it could not even consider the appeal because the transcript does not show that any formal appeal was ever taken but does show that the bill of exceptions does not include substantially all of the evidence submitted in the case.

Lists Getting Ready.

Slacker lists will be published by the war department as fast as they can be prepared now, according to an announcement of the state military department today, which said every opportunity had been given persons whose names might have been erroneously placed in the list to furnish information which would cause the removal of their names. The military department also urged newspapers not to publish statements of persons who claim they were included through error until a thorough inquiry had been made as the government has taken every means possible to establish errors so no injustice might be done any person who served his country or who was lawfully exempted from service.

The state military department has already published the slacker lists for two counties and others will be made public during the next few days.

KIWANIS CLUBS OF HUNTSVILLE AND ALBANY-DECATUR WILL PLAY FRIDAY

Indian Organization Will Battle in League for Pen-nant Honors

LOCALS PRACTICING IN THE WEE SMA' HOURS

Little is Known of Comparative Strength of the Two Teams

The Morgan Kiwanis club will play its initial game in the Alabama Kiwanis league Friday when the local Indians meet the tribe of Huntsville on the latter's battleground.

Under a schedule already mapped out and adopted by representatives of the Kiwanis clubs of Alabama, the clubs of each district play for the district championship, the winners meeting winners until all are eliminated but two teams. The latter then will play for the championship of the state, which carries with it a pennant and a handsome loving cup.

There is intense good natured rivalry between the Albany-Decatur and Huntsville teams and it was expected that a large crowd will accompany the home squad on its first invasion of foreign soil this year. Last year the local Indians went over to Huntsville and defeated the latter by an 8 to 7 score, but Huntsville claims to have strengthened its team materially since then.

Secret Practice

Little is known of the possibilities of the local Kiwanis team this year. The squad has not played any formal engagements, as was the case last year and practice has been largely secret. It is known that in the wee sma' hours of many mornings, the players have been up and at it, scooping grounders, chasing flies and generally getting in shape for the battle of their lives.

There is a great deal of really good baseball talent in the local organization. If the team can get in good condition and has no hard luck, it should give the remainder of the league a run for championship honors.

The first pennant in the fraternal league is a honor much sought after and all of the clubs are working hard to land it.

BIG 'CUE THURSDAY, PLANK STEAKS HUH?

According to an announcement of the Kiwanis club today the long talked of and much delayed barbecue will be held Thursday afternoon at 6 o'clock at the J. D. Bush Lumber yard.

The announcement reminds the members that "be there or you will miss something sure"—probably will take the shingles off the roof or something like that. Surely nobody WOOD miss a treat like that.

To Make Speeches on Tuberculosis

President Sam Malone, of the Morgan County Tuberculosis Association, has called a meeting of the executive committee and board of directors and all others interested to be held at the Albany Chamber of Commerce on Thursday June 2. Mr. Strawson, of the National association, and George Peck, of the state association, will make addresses.

BIRMINGHAM, June 1.—A cut of 2 cents per gallon on gasoline and kerosene was announced today by the Standard Oil company, operating in this state. The cut is effective over the state. A similar cut was announced for the state of Georgia.

CORBETT BELIEVES CARPENTIER ABLE TO "STAND GAFF"

By JAMES J. CORBETT

(Former world's heavyweight champion. Written expressly for the International News Service. Copyright, 1921 by I. N. S.)

CLEVELAND, OHIO, June 1.—Everywhere I go friends and acquaintances ask for an opinion regarding Georges Carpentier's chances against Dempsey.

"Carpentier is a wonderful boxer, eh, Jim?" they say. "But can he take it? Can he stand up to Dempsey?"

Without having had a real opportunity as yet to watch Carpentier work against some big fellow the best reply I can make to these inquiries is to refer my friends to Georges' past performances.

To my mind the showings he made against Frank Klaus, Billy Papke and Joe Jeanette, not to mention Gunboat Smith, furnish pretty fair proof that he can stand the gaff up to a liberal limit. In the days when he fought Klaus, Papke and Jeanette he was more or less a stripling. He had not gotten his full growth and strength yet he took severe beatings from both Papke and Klaus and refused to be discouraged.

Klaus gave Carpentier the worst beating of his career and I want to say right here that Klaus was one tough man in his day. Had Carpentier been other than a lion-hearted youth, he must have quit cold then and there. But he is with us today and it means something.

The Klaus-Carpentier bout at Decatur was a scheduled 20-rounder in 1912. At that time Carpentier started to grow very fast and he had to make weight for Klaus. When he entered the ring he was not strong and he soon discovered that Klaus was indeed "a bearcat" of a fighter and strong as a young bull. In the early rounds Georges had no trouble hitting the Pittsburgh battler, but Klaus shook off his punches and bored in, inflicting severe punishment on Carpentier's midriff every time he got into close quarters.

The fight went on this way for seven rounds and presently Klaus realized that the Frenchman was beginning to tire. In the eighth he tried to finish his man. Carpentier, sensing the danger, eluded him. But Klaus did not let up. Round after round he rushed at the Frenchman, swinging his fists like flails, shaking off punches and boring in. In the eleventh he caught Georges with a right hander on the jaw and almost knocked him out, but Carpentier ran away till his head cleared.

With a great show of courage Carpentier attempted to take the offensive away from Klaus, in the fifteenth. He closed Frank's left eye and brought blood from his mouth, but the advantage was only temporary. Klaus, by this time, was wild as a steer and his anger lent him strength.

The fight carried along to the 19th. This round found Carpentier suffering anguish from his punished mid-section. He was also weak and half dazed and about the middle of the round Klaus planted a terrific smash to the stomach that doubled poor Georges up like a jack knife. Blood gushed from his mouth and he collapsed on the canvas. Descamps jumped into the ring and Klaus was the victor on a foul before the referee could start a count.

RACES CLASH AFTER ATTACK ON A YOUNG WHITE GIRL; SIXTY ALREADY ARE DEAD

Flames Out of Control, Part of White Residential Section Threatened

HOSPITALS CROWDED WITH THE WOUNDED

Two Thousand Negroes Are Held Prisoners by the Armed Whites

(International News Service)

TULSA, OKLA., June 1.—The entire negro section of Tulsa was in flames this morning as a result of the twenty hours of bloody race rioting. The fire is out of control and threatens to wipe out a section of the white residential district.

The death toll so far will probably total more than 60 white and blacks. There are seven known white dead, with probably 60 negroes shot or stabbed by avenging whites.

Hospitals are crowded with wounded. Police estimate 60 whites wounded and probably 200 negroes shot or beaten.

Dawn broke today with the city an inferno of race hatred. A night of terror, marked by the rush of hundreds of armed men through the streets, with frequent clashes between masses of negroes and frenzied white persons, grew steadily in violence during the morning hours and law and order have been swept aside.

The rioting started last night following the arrest of a negro who is alleged to have assaulted a white girl.

The negro was arrested late yesterday and placed in the jail. A group of negroes soon gathered about the jail and their numbers increased until nearly 300 surrounded the building, refusing to disperse.

There was no outbreak, however, until a policeman attempted to disarm a negro. He resisted and was shot and killed. Firing began and as the news spread a white man had been killed around the courthouse hundreds of armed white person began to gather in the business section.

The attack this morning shifted to the "black belt", where the screams of terror stricken negroes were heard above the sounds of firing and the chant of the mob. Frenzied bands of whites are clearing negroes from the section. They were fleeing in terror or surrounding by the scores before the advance of the whites.

The convention hall, used as a prison, is already packed to overflowing with negro prisoners and both the city and county jails are filled to the doors with negroes estimated at 2,000 in number.

WILL GROUPS OF PARTIES TAKE THE PLACE OF TWO GREAT PARTIES

When President Wilson was at the height of his power, he was able to send his party to victory over all opposition time and time again. Mr. Wilson had a perfectly drilled well organized majority in both houses of Congress, and there was a reasonable degree of party loyalty manifest until the last year of his administration. The Republican majority now in the Senate and House, is nothing like so well drilled or loyal as was the case with the Democratic majority under Wilson.

The present Republican factions existed long before the election of last November. Is it possible to think of George Harvey and Former President W. H. Taft, being the same kind of Republicans despite the fact that they both voted the ticket? Harvey was always a Democrat until all but literally kicked out of the party by President Wilson. Harvey has opposed the League of Nations and all such progressive measures, while at heart Mr. Taft was for the league and said so long as he dared to.

There are also the Hiram Johnson, the La Follette and the Mayor Thompson factions, contending daily for separate and opposite ends within the G. O. P. And there is a W. R. Hearst faction, which is either Democratic or Republican as the exigencies of the case may demand. There are Republicans and Democrats from the great farming states of the west, but they are not so much partisans as they are farmers' representatives. International political considerations are causing important divisions.

The several powerful groups in the Republican party seem to be out to gain their own aims and interests, and they seem to have little regard for the fate of the Republican party. This grouping of interests, if it continues, is destined to do away with the bi-partisan party government that has obtained in this country since the beginning. In other nations, notably England, the idea of two great parties is little known. America alone governs herself through two dominant parties. As in the business and industrial world, group interests are making themselves felt more and more.

FAREWELL, FRIEND!

In the passing of J. D. McNabb these cities lose a man whose life might well be emulated to the world's advantage, for it was given to well doing—Faithful to his God, his family and his fellow man. Industry, integrity and kindness were in his weave and woof to an unusual degree, combining to the making of one whom all loved for the gentle, earnest character that he was. He was called after his three-score years filled with such conduct that earned for him the crown in the end, beloved by his associates and now that the journey has been made, he leaves as an heritage—to the wife who has so patiently ministered to him in his affliction and to those near to him in blood ties, such as is unpurchasable, a character rare, full of charity and consideration. Captain McNabb's memory will live in the hearts of the people.

SEEDS OF MORE WARS

It would be a calamity if the Silesian problem should upset the French and disagreements lead to a new European outbreak involving all the continent again in the horrors of war. Both of these eventualities are possibilities, but thank Heaven neither of them are probable in spite of the tense-ness of the situation and the hard feelings that have arisen between England and France. The United States cannot view the situation with unconcern, since we have learned at high cost that we cannot remain unaffected by what transpires across the ocean.

The Silesian trouble arose from the award by the Inter-Allied Plebiscite Commission of the industrial district in dispute between Germany and Poland. The Italian members of the commission wished to give Germany the industrial district in its entirety, the French wished to give most of the district to Poland, while the English compromised on a division between the extremes of the Italian and French recommendations. Then came the revolutionary movement of the Silesian Poles, which evidently had the moral backing of the French, who are very bitter against Premier Lloyd George of England for failing to stand with France in its position on the Silesian division.

It must be borne in mind that France's security for the future depends in large measures on building up a strong Poland. The fear of Germany's "coming back" at some future day to take vengeance upon France is ever present in the French mind.

The greatest comfort in the present situation seems to be for Germany. With what cynical pleasure her statesmen must view the wrangling of Germany's erstwhile united enemies over a question in which two of them are apparently taking a stand in Germany's interest against the interest of her traditional enemy. What a mockery of justice and retribution it will seem if in the end Germany triumphs, by the aid of England and Italy, over ravished France and weak Poland!—Huntsville Telegram.

PULITZER PRIZES FOR 1920 ARE AWARDED

The Pulitzer prize in journalism has been awarded to the Boston Post for exposing the get-rich-quick scheme of Charles Ponzi. This prize was given to the American newspaper performing the most disinterested and meritorious public service during the past year.

The Age-Herald has no desire to disparage the Boston Post, which is an admirable and highly successful newspaper, but the exposure of a swindler, while it was creditable in itself and doubtless prevented many more dupes from falling into his clutches, could hardly be classed as public service on a broad scale. The number of people who were caught, or about to be caught, by Ponzi were a small percentage of the population, even in New England.

Perhaps 1920 was an off year among American newspapers which are usually concerned with movements that are much broader in their scope than that protecting gullible persons from swindlers, although it cannot be denied that such work is laudable and worth while.

Louis Seibold of the New York World received the $1,000 prize for his notable interview with former President Wilson. It was an exceptionally fine piece of reporting, and one of the most intimate pictures of a somewhat aloof personality that has ever been printed. There will be little or no criticism of the Columbia university for thus bestowing deserved recognition on Mr. Seibold.

Edith Wharton's "The Age of Innocence" won the prize for the best American novel of the year. In spite of what some of the critics had to say about Mrs. Wharton's book, it unquestionably made a deep impression and was generally accepted as up to the standard of a writer who has a secure place in contemporary literature. "Miss Lulu Bett," by Zona Gale, won the $1,000 prize awarded for the original American play. Admiral Sims' book, "The Victory at Sea," was given the prize for the best book on American history and Edward Bok's now famous biography, "The Americanization of Edward Bok," received the prize for autobiography.

The awards of Columbia university will meet with public approval. It is apparently much easier to select a prize novel or play than it is to decide who shall be admitted into a Hall of Fame. Perhaps that is explained by the fact that the field is not so wide, nor the claims of the various candidates so confusing.—Age-Herald.

BOY, PAGE PAT MORAN

Three-fingered Ware, who pitches for the Albany (Ala.) team in the Tennessee-Alabama League, says that he played against a cross-eyed pitcher last summer who never had a man steal second when he was in the box. The man on first couldn't tell whether the cross-eyed pitcher was looking at him or looking at the batter, and he was afraid to take a lead off first.—Luke McLuke in Nashville Tennessean.

Among Mr. Wilson's political enemies, the least of their worries, seem to be the memory of duties unfulfilled. And when Mr. Wilson asks if we have fulfilled those duties, the rank and file answer—"yes," "yes" and think no more about it.

Most people who say they hate certain races, at heart hate all races including their own.

Germany has made the first payment of the war indemnity. But no sighs of relief have been heard. Wait until they pay the last mark, then every body will sigh and also shout for joy.

Among the wise, it is not a question of never making mistakes, but one of reducing the number to as low a figure as possible.

The Albany-Decatur bunch, known officially as the Morgan Kiwanis Club, recently put on a stunt that gave all Alabama editors, in session at Albany at the annual meeting of the Alabama Press association, something to write about for a few moons. They gave the pencil pushers a great banquet a la gridiron, the program being printed on a board, with the club roster on the back. The meeting was passed to the files as one of the best ever held and it made the press boys sit up and take notice.—Kiwanis Magazine.

FOR TORPID LIVER

Tennessee Lumberman Talks of His Successful Use of Black-Draught for Colds and Headaches.

Jamestown, Tenn.—"I have used Theodor's Black-Draught for years, in fact it is the only liver medicine that does me any good," says Mr. L. A.
Ragan, a well-known lumberman of this place. "When I was single, I used it for headaches, and especially if I got a cold and feel feverish, I take a good dose of Black-Draught, and it sets me right."

"Since I have been married, I have used it in my family, and never have found its equal for torpid liver or disarranged stomach, especially with children. I can recommend Black-Draught, and gladly do so."
Every member of the family occasionally needs the assistance that Black-Draught can give, in helping to cleanse the system and relieve or prevent the troubles that come from a lazy, torpid liver.

If your liver is not doing its duty, you may suffer with headache, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, etc.
Unless relief is obtained, serious sickness may result. In its long and successful use, Theodor's Black-Draught has been found in thousands of cases to relieve such disorders, by stimulating the liver to do its important work.
Ask for Theodor's Black-Draught, and insist on the genuine. —NO-137

Oh How Glorious to Be Free
From Rheumatism's Tortures!

Just suppose you could be free from your deep-seated, agonizing rheumatic aches and pains, your stiff joints and unsightly swellings!
Wouldn't you give anything to get rid of them?

You have doubtless rubbed on outside treatments; most rheumatism sufferers have. Some of these take the edge off the terrible pains for a few hours, but they do not strike at the cause, which nearly always lies in the poisoned, impoverished blood.

When this is so, you need an internal remedy, one that will take out the impurities that are torturing you, one like famous S.S.S., which has relieved thousands of cases of rheumatism all over the country just this way.

Amusement

ETHEL CLAYTON HAS DIFFICULT ROLE IN "SINS OF ROSANNE" (Princess Today.)

Ethel Clayton plays a sort of feminine Jekyll and Hyde in her latest Paramount photoplay, "Sins of Rosanne," which will be presented at the Princess Theatre tomorrow. The picture is a mystery-romance, with the bulk of the action laid in South Africa, and was adapted from Cynthia Stockley's popular novel.

The heroine is an English girl who was mothered for two years by a Malay woman and was imbued by her with a passionate desire for bright stones and the strange power to cause injury to those whom she might hate. When she sees jewels, she comes under the influence of her craving and will not stop at anything, even theft, to obtain them. When the lure is taken away, she becomes again a gentle, lovely personality. A beautiful romance develops, according to the story, and destroys the spell.

Moulton News

MOULTON, June 1. (Special)—G. W. Armstrong, a highly respected farmer living between Moulton and Landersville died Monday morning and was buried at Landersville, Tuesday. Mr. Armstrong was above sixty years of age, a good farmer, a good citizen, and a consistent member of the church of Christ. He leaves a wife, two sons and three daughters and several grandchildren.

Mrs. Libby Berryhill and Mrs. Jimmie Lee Osteen have received word that their mother, Mrs. J. C. Crow, who has been for some time in New Mexico for her health is very low. Mrs. Crow lived for many years in Moulton and has many friends here. A few years ago she moved to Birmingham.

The Lawrence county Civic club held a very important meeting Saturday last attended by twenty or more interested men. The chairman of the Executive committee, J. F. Yarbrough, county demonstration agent, reported as very favorable the outlook for the building of the State Highway from one and one-half miles west of Moulton, east to the Morgan county line; he also reported the plan for raising the $20,000 or more needed by the county to secure the co-operation of the State and Federal government.

As yet the plan for the work is not fully settled in details but met the hearty approval of those present. The next meeting will be held as soon as information can be had from the State Highway Commission as to the estimated cost of the road at the call of the president of the club, W. C. Bragg.

The continued drought throughout Lawrence county is doing damage to the gardens and Irish potato crops. The last rains that came were beating ones and as a result the surface unworked since that time, or but lately worked is very hard; much cotton that was replanted is finding difficulty in getting through the hard crust and that which stood the cold is doing but little growing; corn seems not to be suffering but oats need rain now as they are heading.

I. B. Bradley and wife of Florida are visiting Mrs. Bradley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Young. Mr. Bradley is preaching each evening through this week at the Church of Christ. Miss Sarah Andrews, a missionary from Japan, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Bradley from Florida to visit her school mates, Misses Ethel and Maggie Young. Miss Andrews will give a talk one evening this week on her work in Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Bracken formerly of this place, but now of Hartselle, are visiting Mrs. Cowan. Mrs. Bracken's mother, Mr. Bracken is now with the Bank of Hartselle.

W. C. Hammond, travelling salesman, of Hartselle, was here on business Monday.

Mrs. W. R. Jackson has returned from visiting relatives at Landersville.

H. W. Wiescham and Judge J. C. Forney went to Florence Tuesday and Wednesday.

W. H. Howell was in Florence to see his son, Prof. Jas. Howell, Sunday.

W. E. Moles was in Albany-Decatur on business Tuesday.

Defective Rack Explosion Cause

WASHINGTON, June 1.—A defective bomb carrying rack was responsible for the explosion at the Aberdeen, Md., proving grounds yesterday which cost the lives of 5 men and the serious injury to 11, according to a preliminary report to the war department this afternoon. The war department was advised that the bomb slipped from a defective rack and probably was set off by striking against a part of the aeroplane. Two of those wounded, Capt. Joseph Hall and Private Weinstock, are reported recovering.

ENGLAND'S GREAT DERBY SET FOR TODAY—250,000 STRUGGLE TO REACH EPSOM RACETRACK

By EARLE C. REEVES.
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 1.—A race-hungry public turns its interest to the rolling downs of Epsom today.

Newly a quarter of a million of that vast race-loving public struggled to get there.

For its Derby Day—the greatest sports day of the year in the British Islands, and the followers of the sport of kings have recently labored long and hopelessly under a ban upon racing.

The coal miners in far off Fifeshire and turbulent South Wales gave the racing fans a complete holiday from the strain of following the good old dope. No coal was mined. Railways could not be operated for such frivolous purposes as transporting the people and their beloved ponies to the various courses. For four weeks there was no racing except in Ireland. Then there was the Two Thousand Guineas Day at Newmarket, by special permission of the Government.

And, finally, three weeks ago, the Government decided to permit racing provided no special transportation facilities were provided by the railways. The relentless followers of form have since been giving the proprietors of charabanc and motor car establishments a flourishing business.

Strikes Can't Stop the "Derby." For three weeks all who could find the financial wherewithal have been whetting their appetites for the season's racing climax by motoring far and wide in the trail of the racing stables.

All the coal strikes in the world wouldn't stop the "Derby." The "Derby" is one of those well known "inalienable rights" of the Englishman. Even during the war, when the Government needed Epsom Downs for military purposes, the "Derby," or a substitute for it, was run on another course.

Really, though, it can only truly be a Derby when run at Epsom. Anything else is an imitation. For the Derby is the great fixture of the Common People. For a day the "third class" passenger is king. This is his race.

The lowly donkey cart, the glittering coach, the charabanc and the Rolls-Royce struggled alike today toward the crowded downs. Today the endless caravans toward Epsom crept or raced forward in due social classification. Road number one was raucous with motor buses and charabancs—the great middle classes. Road number two is reserved for private motors and taxicabs. He who can charter a taxi for a whole day on Epsom Day stands high in the ranks of the great Middle Classes, at least. Road number three is for horse-drawn vehicles. Here cockney is spoken.

"Duskyfoot" Johnson from America would be an unwelcome visitor on Derby Day. It is one of the Englishman's conventional periods for conviviality. One goes to Epsom with a full hamper of juice of the grape, or one maps out a course passing many village and wayside "pubs," where an unlimited supply of beer may be had to whet one's thirst.

Betting Will be on Rampage. On the Downs the King and his Peers and the graduated shades class are to be found in and about the totally inadequate grandstand alongside the finish of the difficult course. In Tattersalls' betting ring beside the grandstand, hundreds of thousands of pounds will change hands this afternoon.

Across the track, in the vast rolling ground in centre track, vehicles of all kinds are packed and the hillsides are black with humanity. Here near the grandstand, is the lesser betting ring, or row, where "five-bob"—one dollar—or upward may be wagered. It is a row of booths fronted by signs which tell you that this and that bookmaker has been established for umpteens years.—And always pa.s.

30x3 1/2 Standard Non-Skid Tire

$13.95

This new low price is made possible by strictest economies and specialized production. Plant No. 2 was erected for the sole purpose of making 30x3 1/2-inch Non-Skid fabric tires. With a daily capacity of 16,000 tires and 20,000 tubes, this plant permits refined production on a quantity basis.

All materials used are the best obtainable. The quality is uniform. It is the best fabric tire ever offered to the car owner at any price.

Firestone Cord Tires

Tire repair men, who judge values best, class these tires as having the sturdiest carcass made. Forty-seven high-grade car manufacturers use them as standard equipment. They are the quality choice of cord users.
